

Dog License Information

Per New York State Department of Agriculture & Markets, effective January 15, 2006, the law requires that a dog license may not be issued for a time period extending beyond the expiration date of a dog's rabies certificate.

Dog licenses issued on and after January 15, 2006, must not expire after the expiration date of the dog's rabies certificate.

In order to receive a full year license, a dog that is due for a rabies vaccination booster within the next license year would need to be immunized prior to license renewal.
